How to use the CV template

Build one truthful, role-specific page before you apply.

QUICK PATH: copy page 1, replace every bracketed prompt, then delete all guide pages.

Start with the required actions. Improve the optional details only after the basics are complete.

1. Start from the job post

[] Highlight the exact role title, required skills, tools, and responsibilities.

- [] Use the same truthful keywords in your summary, skills, and evidence bullets.
- [] Remove sections that do not help this application. Do not add content only to fill space.

2. Write evidence, not personality labels

Use this simple pattern: Action + Task + Method + Result.

Quantified example

Analyzed 120 survey responses in Excel and summarized three customer insights for a campus business project, helping the team earn an A grade.

If you do not have a business result, use a truthful learning result, output, scope, deadline, grade, or feedback. Never invent a number.

3. Keep it ATS-friendly

- [] Use one column, standard section names, normal bullets, and a readable font.
- [] Do not place contact details in a header or footer. Avoid text boxes, charts, icons, logos, and skill bars.
- [] Use one language consistently unless the vacancy asks for another language.
- [] Submit PDF or DOCX according to the vacancy instructions. Open the final file and check that text can be selected and copied.
- [] Name the file clearly: FullName_TargetRole_CV.pdf.

4. Protect your personal data

Indonesia safety note

For a first application, a city is usually enough. Do not place your NIK, KTP number or scan, family card, bank details, religion, marital status, full street address, password, or OTP in a CV. Add a photo only when the employer specifically requests one; keep this ATS version photo-free.

Fictional completed example

All names, organizations, contact details, and results below are invented for learning. Replace them with your real evidence.

Final application check

Do this every time, even when you are in a hurry.

- ☐ The role title and important skills match the vacancy where they are true for me.
- ☐ My contact details are correct, and my email address is professional.
- ☐ Every experience bullet starts with an action and shows evidence.
- ☐ I removed claims, tools, and numbers I cannot explain in an interview.
- ☐ Spelling, dates, capitalization, and verb tense are consistent.
- ☐ The final CV is one page for an early-career application unless the role needs more evidence.
- ☐ No bracketed prompts or guide pages remain in the application file.
- ☐ The file opens correctly, text can be selected, and the filename is clear.
- ☐ I followed the employer's requested file type and application instructions.
- ☐ I verified the vacancy on an official company or trusted job platform and paid no recruitment fee.
