A person wearing a dark jacket, a cap, and a backpack is riding a bicycle on a city street. The bicycle has a delivery bag attached to the front. The background is a blurred city street with other pedestrians and buildings.

Gig Economy

"Activity where people earn income providing on-demand work, services or goods"

- Internal Revenue Service (IRS)

Isn't it what we're doing daily as a worker?

GIG ECONOMY = PROFESSIONAL ECONOMIC TRANSACTION*

) But done beyond the regular job

Hence, we called it
SIDE HUSTLE

Gig Economy Analogy....

“Anyone here playing video game?”

Deck Presentation | 2025

CONFIDENTIAL FOR LIMITED PARTIES Please do not distribute this presentation or any component of this presentation to any 3rd party without written consent.

Gig Economy (Analogy)

Think of the gig economy like a video game where you can pick and choose mini-missions (side quest) to earn coins/gold/emerald.

Instead of playing one-long level over and over (like a regular job), you get to do quick tasks (side-quest) for different people whenever you want.

Each time you finish a task, you earn money—just like leveling up!

Kc!

Side-hustle

A side-hustle is when you decide to make some extra money by doing something fun or cool on your own time. Maybe you sell lemonade at a stand, make friendship bracelets to sell to your friends, or even draw pictures for people who pay you.

So, the gig economy is like a big menu of quick jobs you can choose from, and a side-hustle is what you call it when you pick something off that menu to make extra money on your own time.

Background Gig Economy

Year 1915

The word "Gig" was first used by Jazz musicians to mean Job

Year 1940

The first temporary agency was opened (Kelly Services), providing jobs to typists and other clerically trained staff on a temporary basis

The logo for Kelly Services, featuring the word "KELLY" in a bold, black, sans-serif font with a registered trademark symbol.

Year 1970

Neo-liberalism promotes the re-commodification of work through trade liberalization, small government, and an emphasis on employability, raising the question of whether Uberization/decentralization is the next step.

Background

Gig Economy

Year 1990s

10% of the US workforce was employed as contractors, temporary and on-call workers, as the demand for more flexible work patterns and non-permanent staff intensified

> 1990s–present

The gig economy started to take off in the late 90s and early 90s along with the digital era

Demographic Profile of Indonesia's Gig Economy

Kc!

Most Gig Workers in Indonesia are in Millennials Generation

Key Factors for Generation Disparity

Gig work is more common among younger generations (Millennials and Gen-Z)

Likely due to greater technological familiarity and a preference for flexible work arrangements.

Center for Employment and Labor Studies at the University of Indonesia in 2020

Demographic Profile of Indonesia's Gig Economy

Despite the imbalance, gig work can empower women economically by offering flexible income opportunities, especially in sectors like e-commerce, freelancing, or caregiving

Kc!

Most Gig Workers in Indonesia are in Male

Key Factors Contributing to Gender Disparity

Accessibility barriers for women (e.g., safety concerns, cultural norms).

Unequal access to technology or digital platforms in certain regions.

Gendered expectations around work roles (e.g., transportation gigs being male-dominated)

Center for Employment and Labor Studies at the University of Indonesia in 2020

Demographic Profile of Indonesia's Gig Economy

Number of Woman Workers per Job Status (Millions)

Key Factors Contributing to Disparity

Employee:

Women prefer formal employment due to its stability, benefits, and alignment with societal norms around "acceptable" work for women.

Contributing Family Worker:

Aligns with traditional gender roles, offers flexibility, and requires no formal skills, making it more accessible for women in rural areas.

Demographic Profile of Indonesia's Gig Economy

Kc!

Gig workers are more likely to hold university degrees than non-gig workers

Key Factors Contributing to Disparity

This challenges the stereotype that gig work predominantly attracts less-educated individuals.

Higher education workers may opt for gig work due to its flexibility, autonomy, and opportunities to apply advanced skills (e.g., tech, freelancing).

Center for Employment and Labor Studies at the University of Indonesia in 2020

Demographic Profile of Indonesia's Gig Economy

Kc!

Prior employment experience helps gig workers build a portfolio or set of skills.

Most Gig Workers in Indonesia have prior employment experience

Key Factors Contributing to Disparity

This suggest gig work is often a deliberate choice rather than a first-time entry into the labor market.

Prior work experience likely equips gig workers with transferable skills (e.g., time management, client interaction) that enhance their adaptability and success in the gig economy.

Difference Aspect	Gig Economy	Traditional Employment
Work Structure	Short-term, project-based, or task-oriented work.	Long-term, ongoing roles with consistent responsibilities.
Income Stability	Variable income; depends on gig availability and demand.	Fixed salary or hourly wage with predictable paychecks.
Benefits	Rarely includes employer-provided benefits (healthcare, retirement plans, etc.).	Typically includes benefits (health insurance, paid leave, retirement plans, etc.).
Job Security	Low; dependent on market demand and platform policies.	Higher; often tied to employment contracts or labor laws.

Difference Aspect	Gig Economy	Traditional Employment
Flexibility	High autonomy; workers choose hours, location, and projects.	Fixed schedules and workplace requirements (e.g., office hours, in-person attendance).
Employer Relationship	Independent contractors or freelancers; no formal employment contract.	Direct employer-employee relationship with formal contracts.
Legal Protections	Limited protections (e.g., no minimum wage or overtime guarantees in many cases).	Covered by labor laws (e.g., minimum wage, anti-discrimination, unemployment insurance).
Career Progression	Self-driven; relies on personal networking and skill development.	Structured advancement (promotions, raises) within an organization.

What is Identify Your Skills & Niche

Skills:

These are things you're already good at or can get better at with practice.

Niche:

This is a specific area or group of people who need something you can offer. It's like finding the perfect spot in a big market where you can stand out.

Niche = SOM

Case Study Example

TAM SAM SOM

Business:

"JagoDigital" – A solo-owned digital marketing agency by Andi offering Instagram & TikTok Ads services for Indonesian MSMEs (micro, small, and medium enterprises), focusing on food/beverage and local fashion brands in Jakarta, Bandung, and Surabaya.

Owner Profile:

- Name: Andi
- Background: Former digital marketer at an agency, now running his own freelance business.
- Ideal Clients: Small businesses (e.g., coffee shops, snack brands, local clothing stores) with monthly ad budgets of IDR 1–5 million.

Case Study Example

TAM SAM SOM

1. Total Addressable Market (TAM) – The Entire Pie

Definition: Total digital marketing spending in Indonesia.

- Indonesia's digital ad market ≈ IDR 50 trillion/year (all businesses).
- But, Andi only targets MSMEs, not big corporations.

Estimated TAM

- IDR 50 trillion (theoretical max, but unrealistic for a solo freelancer)

Case Study Example

TAM SAM SOM

2. Serviceable Available Market (SAM) – Andi's Realistic Target

Definition: MSMEs in Indonesia that fit Andi's expertise and budget range.

Narrowing Down SAM:

- Location: MSMEs in Jakarta, Bandung, Surabaya (most digitally savvy).
- Industries: Food/beverage & fashion (heavy Instagram/TikTok users).
- Budget: Businesses willing to spend IDR 1–5 million/month on ads.
- Mindset: Owners who believe in paid ads (not just word-of-mouth or offline sales).

Estimated SAM:

- IDR 1 trillion/year (just 2% of TAM, but highly targeted)

Case Study Example

TAM SAM SOM

3. Serviceable Obtainable Market (SOM) – Andi's Realistic Share

Definition : The portion of SOM Andi can actually capture in 1–2 years.

Constraints:

- Competition : Numerous freelancers & small agencies offer similar services.
- Capacity : As a solo freelancer, Andi can handle 5–10 clients/month max.
- Pricing : Charges IDR 2–3 million/month per client.

Estimated SOM (Year 1) :

- IDR 120–240 million/year (serving 5–10 clients at ~IDR 2M/month)

Benefits

Identify Your Skills & Niche

Ability to pick something you're highly-skilled at and enjoy.

Have lesser competition because you're focusing on a specific group of people who need your offer.

For example, instead of just “selling cookies,” you might focus on “gluten-free cookies for kids with allergies”—that’s a niche!

This is about what cash or resources you have access to.

You don't need a lot to start small! Maybe you've got Rp500.000 saved from your full-time job, or your parents let you use their laptop for free.

Ask yourself: What do I have that I could use—money, tools, or stuff at home?

Money

What Counts as "Money" or "Resources"?

1. Cash (Actual Money)

- Savings: Money you've set aside to start (e.g., buying a bike for deliveries).
- Startup Costs: Fees for apps (like Uber, Fiverr), tools (Canva for design), or ads.
- Emergency Fund: Extra money in case gigs slow down.

Example: If you want to be a freelance graphic designer, you might need Rp95k/month for Canva Pro subscription.

2. Tools & Equipment (Physical Resources)

- Phone/Laptop: Needed for apps (Uber, Upwork), communication, and work.
- Transportation: Bike, car, or scooter for delivery gigs.
- Software: Zoom for tutoring, Photoshop for design, etc.

Example: A YouTuber needs a camera, microphone, and editing software.

Money

What Counts as "Money" or "Resources"?

3. Time (Your Most Limited Resource!)

- Hours Available: Gig work takes time—you must balance school, family, and work.
- Efficiency: Learning skills faster = more gigs in less time.

Example: If you tutor for 2 hours after school, that's your "time resource (after school/office)."

4. Skills (A Form of "Future Money")

- Free Skills: If you're good at something (art, coding, writing), you can sell it without spending money upfront.
- Learning Cheaply: YouTube, free courses (Google Certificates), or practicing.

Example: A teen who edits videos for free at first can later charge $20 per video.

Money

What Counts as "Money" or "Resources"?

5. Network (People Who Help You Earn)

- Friends/Family: They might hire you (e.g., mowing lawns) or refer you.
- Social Media: Followers can become customers (TikTok freelancers).

Example: Dog walking gigs often start with neighbors.

How to Use This for Gig Work?

Resource	Example
Cash	Rp500k saved for Fiverr gig fees
Tools	Using a family laptop for freelance writing
Time	Working 1 hour/day on homework gigs
Skills	Selling handmade bracelets if good at crafts
Network	Friends sharing your tutoring flyer

Expertise is when you have a good understanding of something specific.

Normally, this is a self-taught process learned by researching online, reading subject matter books, or working with trainers already expert in the field in question.

Education can be a strong foundation in school as it is a multi-disciplined education

Ask yourself: *What have I learned that I'm good at?
What do I know a lot about?*

Education Education Types

Formal

Structured learning in schools or colleges with a set plan, leading to official certificates or degrees.

Think classrooms and diplomas! 📚🎓

Non-Formal

Organized learning outside traditional schools, flexible and fun, often without official degrees.

It's skill-building with a specific purpose! 🛠️✨

Informal

Learning by doing, exploring, or living life—no plan needed!

It's picking up skills from everyday adventures. 🌍💡

potential clients to contact you

Includes:

1. Email
2. Phone Number
3. LinkedIn

Extra Notes

Not All Gig Requires Real Portfolio

Some gig jobs can't showcase portfolios due to:

1. Confidentiality (e.g., handling sensitive data and NDAs).
2. Non-Tangible Work (e.g., consulting, private coaching).
3. Client Privacy (e.g., ghostwriting, private contracts).

Workarounds: Use test projects, anonymized samples, or skill certifications instead, white labelling.

Setting Your Rates

It's the amount of money you charge for your work.
It's how much you ask people to pay you for the time, skills, experience, on behalf of services you offer.

Example:

1. If you make bracelets to sell, you might set a fee of Rp50.000 per bracelet.
2. If you do consultation session with certain amount of experience and track record, you might set a fee of RP500.000 per hour session.

Benefits of Setting Your Rates

Revenue Generation

Your rate or fee is how you get paid!

Maintain Fairness

A clear rate stops people from underpaying you.

Career Escalator

As you get better or faster, you can raise your rates.

A man with dark hair, wearing a blue button-down shirt over a white t-shirt, is looking down at a smartphone in his hands. In the background, a large computer monitor displays a social media or video editing interface. Two white speech bubbles with black text are overlaid on the image. The first bubble is positioned near the monitor, and the second is near the man's head. At the bottom of the image, there is a yellow banner with red text.

Terserah mas aja...
(pengen di atas Rp200.000)

AVOID THIS MISTAKE

How to Setting Your Rates

Check Your Skills:

Better skills lead to higher rates.

Choose a Pricing Model:

Hourly Rate or Project-Based Pricing or Value-Based Pricing.

Think About Costs:

Add in anything you spend (ex: supplies).

Research Market:

See the same market charge for the an equal work (benchmarking).

Count Your Time:

Start Low but Plan to Grow:

You can change it later as you get more experience.

Find Your Platform

It means choosing where you'll sell, promote, or show off your side hustle. It's the "place" where people find out about your hustle and buy what you're offering (examples: Upwork, Fiverr, TikTok, Instagram, etc.)

Example:

If you make custom keychains, your platform could be an Instagram page where you post pics and take orders.

Benefits of Find Your Platform

It's how you connect with people who'll pay you or support you.

If you choose the wrong one, no one will see your hustle, and you won't make money or grow.

Example:

If you're giving photography service, showcase your photos on Instagram.

Platform	Cost	Tech Skills Needed	Reach (Who Sees It)	Ease of Start	Best For
Instagram / TikTok	Free (but ads)	Medium (phone + apps)	Big (teens, online)	Medium	Visual stuff (art, crafts, fun)

Benefits

Networking

78% employers stated they HIRED someone through a social network-notably a person they found on LinkedIn (Jobvite Survey on Forbes)

70% Professionals GET HIRED at company where they have professional connections (LinkedIn Research on VICE)

63% of all jobs are found through contacts. NETWORKING can be the most effective way you'll land the best job (Forbes)

How to Start Message in Networking

1. Start Friendly (Say Hi and Who You Are):

Say who you are and what you do briefly. Mention your work to show credibility.

Example: "Hi Andi, I'm Rina, a marketing agency owner with 10 years of experience."

2. Say Why You're Messaging Them:

Connect it to them—why they're a good fit. Show you know their work.

Example: "I saw your recent post about struggling with Instagram ads, and it's something I specialize in."

3. Make a Clear, Easy Ask:

Ask for something specific but not pushy—like advice, a quick call, or a small favor.

Example: "I'm launching a IG Ads Performance Boost on affordable marketing plans. Could I get your thoughts on it over a 10-minute call?"

4. End with Gratitude and an Open Door:

Thank them and offer something back if it fits.

Example: "Thanks for your time! Happy to share a free tip for your ads in return."
